A Message From The CEO/GM

Dear Highlands Ranch residents,

Since its debut in May 1986, the HRCA Newsletter, previously called The Hometown Herald, has been the heartbeat of Highlands Ranch. What began as a simple newsletter created by Joni Blackman, Dave Long, Chuck Bromley, and Jim Pilcher has grown into a comprehensive source of information for our thriving community of over 100,000 residents. Through every season of growth, it has remained a trusted connection between neighbors and the story of our community.

Today, the HRCA Newsletter is packed with everything you need to know about life in Highlands Ranch. From events, programs, camps, and classes to Job Fairs, arts and cultural opportunities, and delegate and board elections, it keeps you in the loop. You'll also find essential updates on community safety, construction projects and road closures, covenants and assessments, and the Backcountry Wilderness Area. Plus, it delivers important messages from our partners, including Highlands Ranch Water, Douglas County, and the Highlands Ranch Metro District.

If you want to stay informed, get involved, and make the most of all our community has to offer, this is the resource to read every month. Copies are mailed directly to your home, available at kiosks in all recreation centers, and posted online. For added convenience, sign up to receive a digital version delivered straight to your inbox at the start of each month. Don't miss out—reading The HRCA Newsletter keeps you connected, informed, and part of the story of Highlands Ranch. Make it a monthly habit and stay at the center of our vibrant community.

My best,
Mike Bailey

The Big Help Returns to the Backcountry Wilderness Area

Join us for The Big Help, a community volunteer event in the Backcountry Wilderness Area. This annual day of service, which lines up near Earth Day and Arbor Day, brings neighbors, families, and nature lovers together to care for our local wild place. Volunteers will roll up their sleeves to help with meaningful projects that support the habitat and community areas. Activities may include habitat improvement, cactus removal, painting, horse corral cleanup, and general efforts that help keep the landscape safe and welcoming for both wildlife and visitors.

The Backcountry Wilderness Area is more than just a scenic place to hike—it's an important home for local wildlife and a living classroom where people of all ages can connect with nature. By participating in The Big Help, volunteers play a direct role in protecting this special landscape while supporting environmental education and outdoor experiences for the community. No special skills are required—just a willingness to lend a hand and spend a morning outdoors. Staff will provide guidance, tools, and project assignments, and volunteers will have the chance to work alongside fellow community members who share a love for the outdoors. Families, individuals, and groups are all welcome. It's a great opportunity for students needing service hours, families looking for a meaningful way to spend time together, or anyone who wants to give back to the place that gives so much to our community.

Celebrating 40 Years of the Highlands Ranch Newsletter

Five years after the first families moved into Highlands Ranch in 1981, the Highlands Ranch Newsletter made its debut in May 1986. Joni Blackman, Dave Long, Chuck Bromley, and Jim Pilcher set out to create a simple newsletter—and it quickly became the heartbeat of the growing community.

After a "Name the Newsletter" contest, the first official title was unveiled: The Hometown Herald (or Meanwhile, Back at the Ranch…). True to its name, it blended community pride with a touch of Western charm. Residents were invited to share personal stories and classified ads, join the local phone tree for updates (this was pre-internet!), and get involved as volunteers or district delegates.

The newsletter tracked every milestone—new schools and rec centers, park expansions, and commercial developments—as Highlands Ranch grew by leaps and bounds. Today, with more than 100,000 residents, the community looks very different than it did in 1986. Yet through every season of growth, The HRCA Newsletter has remained a trusted source of connection—a steady link between neighbors and the story of our thriving community.

Grand Opening

Residents Celebrate Our New Recreation Center

By Mary Putnam

An enthusiastic crowd of nearly 2,000 enjoyed the full day of festivities November 1 marking the grand opening of Highlands Ranch Recreation Center's new facilities and the community's fifth birthday.

Several roving cartoon characters delighted the little ones with plenty of hugs and grand opening goodies. Karen Novotny's artistic magic brought a variety of designs and lots of smiles to the younger faces.

The entire family enjoyed both of Fannie Annie the Clown's shows featuring balloon sculptures and Bob Fox's special mime and juggling presentation.

Outstanding performances in the new indoor pool were notable afternoon highlights. The comical Aqualooneeacts tickled the audience with countless stunts and feats of daring and the synchronized swimming routine proved to be a beautiful water ballet.

HRCA board member Joe Blake provided play-by-play commentary of the strenous racquetball and handball exhibitions. Highlands Ranch Recreation Center's racquetball pro, Mary Ellen Doukakis, won the tough racquetball contest with Jim Toepfer, Mission Viejo Company's Colorado Division president.

Highlands Ranch Water Issues Drought Watch; Encourages Early Conservation

Highlands Ranch Water has issued a Drought Watch for its service area, effective March 1, following a Feb. 23 decision by the Water Board. The declaration comes in response to ongoing warm, dry conditions, below-normal snowpack, and rising water demand across the region. A Drought Watch is the first step in the district's Drought Response Plan. Its goal is to raise awareness and encourage early conservation efforts ahead of the irrigation season. When irrigation season begins, outdoor watering will be limited to three days per week.

If dry conditions persist, the district may move to Stage 1, which could include additional watering restrictions and drought rates. Several factors contributed to the decision. Snowpack in the South Platte River Basin—a primary source of Highlands Ranch Water's supply—is currently at 59% of normal, while customer demand is running approximately 7% higher than expected, placing added strain on reservoir storage as the community heads into spring and summer.

With spring approaching, Highlands Ranch Water encourages customers to wait until May 1 to turn on their sprinklers. Before running irrigation systems, residents should perform a check-up: inspect sprinkler heads, replace broken nozzles, and check for leaks to ensure the system is operating efficiently. Outdoor water budgets begin April 15. As watering needs increase, budgets adjust to reflect seasonal landscape demands. Staying within your water budget keeps rates at the lowest tier. Higher rates apply only to usage above your budget and are designed to promote efficient water use. While budgets do not change during drought restrictions, customers are encouraged to reduce water use in response to drought conditions.

During dry winter periods, residents may water occasionally by hand or with a hose-end sprinkler—applying water slowly and deeply once every two weeks when temperatures are above 40°F and there is no snow cover. In recognition of the Drought Watch, the Highlands Ranch Community Association (HRCA) will take a measured approach to lawn maintenance enforcement this summer. Lawns that appear dormant or temporarily yellow due to reduced irrigation will not be considered a violation. However, turf that is clearly dead, overtaken by weeds, or otherwise unmaintained will require corrective action. Homeowners are encouraged to maintain lawns at a slightly higher mowing height—3 to 4 inches during peak summer heat—to preserve root health while keeping yards trimmed, edged, and free of overgrowth.

Water conservation does not eliminate maintenance responsibilities but encourages thoughtful stewardship that balances resource use with community appearance standards. Residents can start conserving now by checking for leaks, upgrading to water-efficient fixtures, signing up for a free "Slow the Flow" irrigation inspection, and familiarizing themselves with their water budget. Small steps today can help protect the community's shared water supply this summer.

From HRCA Flag Football to the National Stage

Last year, HRCA was thrilled to celebrate an incredible milestone for one of our own! Charlie Costello, who has been part of HRCA's flag football programs since the age of six, was invited to compete in the 14U Boys Division at the 2025 USA Football National Team Development Program (NTDP) Select Bowl.

Charlie earned his invitation at a regional event in Pueblo, Colorado, and was selected as one of only 40 athletes nationwide to advance to this prestigious national showcase. From there, the roster was set to be narrowed to 22 players—and ultimately, the final 12 would represent the United States on the official 14U National Team. Adding to this exciting year, Charlie and his team also achieved an outstanding result by placing second in the 2025 USA Flag Football Tournament, a testament to his talent, dedication, and teamwork on the national stage.

We were incredibly proud of Charlie's accomplishments and the role HRCA's flag football program played in his development. Congratulations to Charlie and the Costello family on this exciting achievement!

Wildcat Mountain Is Open!

April welcomes the re-opening of Wildcat Mountain trails! Wildlife (namely elk) winter on Wildcat Mountain to conserve critical calories. After March, increasing temperatures means more resources for wildlife. Elk expand their range in the spring and summer, allowing visitors to hike, bike, run, and ride horses at Wildcat Mountain without disturbing their critical winter rest. However, if Wildcat Mountain's resident golden eagle pair are observed having nest behaviors, the lollipop trail at the top of Wildcat Mountain will remain closed until Tuesday, September 1 to give the little one the best chance of survival. If you're interested in a chance to glimpse these massive raptors (and, possibly, their little one), join us for a guided Golden Eagle Viewing program (see above). Happy hiking! Learn more about the closure on our blog!
