19. Final interpretation of any HRCA rules, regulations or guidelines will be made by Staff. All staff decisions are final.
20. Utility companies and other parties with easements, rights-of-way, licenses or other permits for use of or access to the Property, including the tenant on the Property with a grazing lease, may conduct business as usual during hunting seasons. HRCA cannot limit the access or operations of holders of such interests in any way at any time. Hunters should exercise extreme caution while hunting and be aware that other parties may be on the Property at all times.

21. All big game hunts must be accompanied by an HRCA provided guide.

22. HRCA Hunt Committee:

- a. Each year the Hunt Committee provides input and makes recommendations to the staff on the following:
 - i. Fees for each category of hunt and species of hunt
 - ii. System used to determine categories of hunts
 - iii. Quotas for categories and species
 - iv. Other input as needed

23. Bull Elk Hunt Categories/Classification:

- a. Unrestricted Bull Elk Hunt: Any bull is eligible for harvest

- a. Restricted Bull Elk Hunt: Typically a bull that is not a trophy and does not have 'special' qualities ('special' will be defined by the guide). However, depending on the year's harvests and observations, a Restricted hunt may allow for a trophy bull. It would not allow for ANY trophy bull but a specific class, age, or even a specific bull. The determination of the 'restrictions' in place for the hunt would be made prior to the start of the hunt. If the restriction allows for a trophy, an additional $500 fee would be assessed prior to the start of the hunt. The hunter can choose whether or not to take the 'trophy option' if it is available. No matter what restrictions are in place for the hunt, the final determination of whether a bull fits the criteria and can be harvested is subjective and such determination is up to the guide. All staff/guide decisions are final.

- b. Management Bull Elk Hunt: A bull that is not a trophy and likely never will be; or a non-branched spike. The determination of a management bull is subjective and such determination is up to the guide. All staff/guide decisions are final.

24. Wait Periods:

There will be mandatory wait periods, or periods of ineligibility, for any hunter who harvests an animal or has a successful hunt for an animal. 'Successful hunt' is defined as a hunt where an animal is either harvested, wounded, or the hunter has a reasonable opportunity for a shot and passes. Such determination is made by the guide.

Each harvested bull elk will be judged by the sitting HRCA Hunt Committee. The Committee will make a recommendation to staff to categorize the harvest into a category outlined below

In the event an animal is wounded and not recovered, that will count as a harvest. The HRCA guide will have final say in categorizing the bull. However, if it is a known bull then pictures will be used and the categorization will go through the normal committee process. All hunters must have their harvested bull (if it is not deemed a management or non-trophy) scored and provide that score to staff or the 20 year wait period will apply. The score will help categorize the bull but will not be the final determination. All staff decisions and judgements are final regarding judgement of success and size/categorization of the bull elk.

Wait periods is a term of ineligibility for hunts (the term of ineligibility applies only to the sex/species of the harvested animal).

Hunters may continue to apply and collect points under the HRCA point system. Hunters may also continue to participate in all drawings (after "General" eligibility/wait period expires) and if drawn for a bull hunt, that hunt would automatically be a management bull hunt.

For example, if a hunter hunts a bull in 2017, and has a successful hunt for a non-management bull, the hunter would be ineligible for all bull hunts for 2018 and 2019 and is again eligible for all hunts in 2020. Or, if a hunter hunts a bull in 2017 and harvests a trophy bull that requires a five year mandatory wait period, after two years of that wait period (2018 and 2019) they would be eligible to enter drawings for all bull hunts in 2020 but if drawn, their hunt would automatically be a management bull hunt. That would be in effect for all years until their wait period expires.

All wait periods are retroactive to the fall 2017 hunts. Any hunter who hunted in the fall of 2017 is subject to these wait periods.

- 28. If a person hunts an animal from any of those pools, their points reset to zero within that pool. For bull elk hunts, the category of bull hunt does not matter, nor does it matter if it was a voucher, provide your own license, prize, etc.
- 29. If a person skips one year of gaining a point in a pool, their points reset to zero for that pool. A person may obtain only one point per year in any pool.
- 30. There is no pool for coyotes, a coyote hunt does not impact points whatsoever.
- 31. Points do not reset to zero if a hunt was purchased via auction; otherwise, all other situations where a person hunts the animal from that point pool, points reset to zero.

- c. Hunter should begin to carefully search the hit site for signs the animal was hit, but may not continue to hunt until staff can assess the situation, make a determination, and direct the hunter with a course of action.
- d. Staff will want the following information from the hunter:

- e. Blood and other sign will be evaluated to help determine whether the animal was hit/wounded.
- f. If there is sign that the animal was hit/wounded every effort will be made to locate that animal. The effort may take a few hours, or days.
- g. In general, but with few exceptions, if an animal is hit/wounded and is not found, the hunt will be over at that point. Certain circumstances may call for an exception and that determination will be made by staff in each instance.
